Build your travel retail offer by expanding your network with Virtual Interlining

Sell more air content on your website by enabling TripStack's dynamic interline solutions including Virtual Interlining (VI).

Virtual Interlining (also known as self-connect) lets travelers combine flights from multiple carriers into a single itinerary. It offers more choices for travelers and new ways for airlines to create wider market opportunities beyond their own route network.

Navitaire's partnership with TripStack offers Navitaire-hosted airlines another novel way to integrate modern technology to streamline the Interlining and Virtual Interline booking process.

- Sell more retail air content by delivering both your interline content, and building Virtual Interline connections with a wide range of global carriers
- Fully outsourced handling of Virtual Interline itineraries and supported by TripStack's Self-Connect Guarantee
- TripStack manages all customer support for missed connections and schedule changes and includes allowances for meals and lodging
- Ability to sell additional non-airline ancillaries such as travel insurance, lost baggage protection and flexible ticket options
- Flexible integration methods; either display content directly on your website utilizing Navitaire's Travel Commerce or redirect to a white label website
